INTRODUCTION

Hi Folks

Welcome to BST Newsletter Edition 11 and plenty going on in this edition with no less than 5 New Reviews they are Dreamlays, Layers of Profit II, Racing Secrets Exposed (Tips), Racing Secrets Exposed E- Book and Racing Winners. Also under Betting Advice we have an article on Dependency which may rouse a few comments but hopefully it will make you think.

New Reviews

Dreamlays - Reviewer Sgt Brendan

Is a Laying service that looks to oppose named horses between specific odds. The odds being 5.90 -7.00 and 12-17 which may not be to everyone's liking or comfort zone. Selections are sent out by e-mail and are also available on a special member's website. The results going back to February are impressive but let's see what happens in the review. To achieve the best results you would need to use a Bot or be available for live racing, even then results may vary. For the review all results will be to BFSP. Although the service recommends a 50 point bank, Sgt Brendan believes 100 points would be more realistic and will be working to £10 a point so the starting bank will be £1000. The cost of this service is £59 + VAT or less if you go for longer subscriptions. Only one betting day so far which had 7 selections with 1 losing lay at 6.93 so a loss of £2.50 .

Layers of Profit (Mk II) - Reviewer Sgt Rob

The original Layers of Profit was being reviewed back in May but stopped due to personal problems involving the owner. Anyway Layers of Profit is back and Sgt Rob is adding on MkII on the end of the name so as to avoid confusion with the original as the new version is different it only gives one selection a day with a maximum odds of 4.00. Recommended bank is 35 points and selections are sent out by e-mail by 12 noon the cost of the service is £19.99 per month. Since 12th July to August 1st a total of 21 bets were sent out, 7 of which were No Bets, of the remaining 14, 11 were winning Lays for the service resulting in a profit of 3.84 points.

Racing Secrets Exposed E-Book - Reviewer Sgt Rob

Is a 105 page e-book which explains the mechanics of finding false favourites through evaluating lots of criteria. Although this may appear daunting 25% of the book contains examples of how to find selections and is well written. Sgt Rob who is not really into laying is going to be using the e-book and posting up his selections. He believes that for the cost of only £7 it appears an absolute steal as it is ideal for novices and a good refresher for the veteran layers. It should be added that you need to subscribe to the Racing Post that is £7.50 per month in order to use the manual successfully. No results published as yet.

Racing Secrets Exposed (Tips) - Reviewer Sgt Rob

This a service operated by Kris Jackman the author of Racing Secrets Exposed. An e-mail is sent out daily with selections that the author has pinpointed as ideal lays. So far this year the service has made 40 points profit, the cost is £37 per month. No results as yet.

See Racing Secrets Exposed (Tips) here:

<http://www.bettingsystemtruths.com/review/Racing-Secret-Exposed-Tips/>

Racing Winners - Reviewer Sgt Thomas

Racing winners is a backing system which involves studying form using the Racing Post. As per the authors recommendation you place only 2 bets per day risking 2% of the Betting Bank on each bet. The website states a current strike of 23% with average odds of 6.8 and that you can double your betting bank in 3 months.

So how much is the cost of this system? £19 and for that you get a 45 page e-book with little fluff (Hooray) and is quite detailed in its content. Although Sgt Thomas had a few quibbles with the e-book overall he thought it was fairly well written. The selection process should take around 30 to 40 minutes once you are used to it. The final part of the selection does require you have access to a betting website (Betfair is recommended) as the prices will decide the bets. Results will be based on Betfair prices 15 minutes before the off and starting with a bank of 100 points. Only one betting day so far which had 2 selections and no winners so a loss of 3.96 points, but a long way to go yet.

9 selections for the week with 7 winning lays for the service but unfortunately the two losing ones proved to be rather costly with BFSP of 13.96 and 10.00, this resulted in loss of minus 16.26 points.

Golden Key Method 2- Reviewer Sgt Dave

The review period for this method has been extended for another 28 days to go to the full 84. A slight slowing down in the profits with only 11.60 points being made, although it had 5 winning days out of 7 most of these were between 2 to 3 points gain per day.

Layers of Profit (Mk II) - Reviewer Sgt Rob

Another new review as it is now a revamped version of the original which was stopped due to personal reasons involving the owner. Just to recap from 12th July to August 1st a total of 21 bets were sent out, 7 of which were No Bets, and of the remaining 14, 11 were winning Lays for the service resulting in a profit of 3.84 points. The recommended start bank is 35 points.

Upto day 21	This Period	Cumulative
	P/L	35 point Start Bank	P/L
	+ 3.84	38.84 points	+ 3.84 points

On Course For Profits - Reviewer Sgt Thomas

Well the expected big profits predicted by the author have not materialized as yet and another losing week has certainly damaged the profits. In total the system had 5 losing days out of 6, the other day was a no selection day. Will be interesting to see if it can pick itself up after the couple of rough weeks it has suffered.

Upto day 51	This Period	Cumulative
	P/L	100 point Start Bank	P/L
	-14.69	103.85 points	+ 3.85 points

Planet Horseracing- Reviewer Sgt Tony

Another week with 6 selections and 2 losing Lays for the service fortunately they were shorter priced winners which resulted in loss of only -£51.20. The service did get a winning lay on Sunday 1st August so perhaps this month will be better.

Upto day 32	This Period	Cumulative
	P/L	£2000 Start Bank	P/L
	-£51.20	£2022.40	+£22.40

Profit From Systems -Reviewer Sgt Dave

Not a good week for the Lays out of 16 selections, 5 were losing ones resulting in a loss of 12.83 points though still well in profit the numbers have taken a knock. For the Back Bets it had 27 selections with only 6 winners which meant a loss on the week of minus 1.30 points.

Upto day 54	This Period	Cumulative
	P/L	100 point Start Bank	P/L
Backs	-1.30 points	68.11 points	-31.89 points
Lays	-12.83 points	138.62 points	+38.62 points

Racing Winners - Reviewer Sgt Thomas

Another of our new reviews which has already been discussed in our New Review section. Sgt Thomas is working to a 100 point starting bank and staking 2% of this per selection. Only one betting day so far which had 2 selections and no winners so a loss of 3.96 points.

Upto day 1	This Period	Cumulative
	-3.96 points	96.04 points	- 3.96 points

Betting Advice

Dependency

I wasn't going to do an article this week, I was going to give you all a break (hooray I hear you shout) but I was browsing through the blog and I see that FP had a slight hiccup over the last 4 days and I looked at some of the postings. I was particularly interested in Sgt Dave posting and it kind of compelled me to do this article (now you're booing, okay I will give you all a break next week). I, like Sgt Dave, looked at the races for those days and could see where he was coming from. It also showed me, we are too dependent on Bots and Software and we seem to have lost the ability to think for ourselves.

Before everyone starts jumping up and down yes, Bots are wonderful things. They save time, don't make so many mistakes, and of course do away with that human frailty emotion. They can only do what they are programmed to do and this applies to software as well. I suppose some time in the future they could be linked to the course update the going in real time make the necessary adjustment for non runners etc, whilst still crunching numbers to obtain a bet. Until that time we still need to do some thinking on our part for example: The software has downloaded all the data which had probably been prepared the night before, it is working to the fact the going is good or good to firm, then early morning onwards heavy rain the going changes to good to soft any selections given whether to back or lay are probably totally irrelevant. I suspect some folks would carry on regardless and wonder why they lost their money.

Even if you receive e-mail selections it is good to check them out for the basics such as going etc. What is the point of subscribing to the service you ask; well they have narrowed hundreds of selections to a handful so at least that has saved you many hours and your attention is focused on a few.

Back to the FP Bot, it is very good but it cannot discriminate the type of races, the going, number of runners etc. Sgt Dave has already given the stats for the good to soft meetings; a paltry 1 winner out of 13 races. Of course it's July/August and no one is expecting soft ground and horses that like those conditions are more likely being aimed at an autumn campaign so it becomes a bit of a lottery. So what difference does the type of races and number of runners make? - a lot let's look at some stats:

All Handicaps with 14 or more runners Strike rate is 19.5%
All Handicaps with 13 or less runners Strike Rate is 26.7%

All Non Handicap races with 14 or more runners Strike Rate is 28.2%
All Non Handicap races with 13 or less runners Strike Rate is 35.7%

Note The stats above are for the last 5.5 years and do not include Amateur races.

So based on the above don't you think it would be a good idea in the morning just to scan the racing pages check the first half of all afternoon racing, work out how many handicaps check out the number of runners in the races, any variations of going. If you are happy and everything looks good then let the FP Bot go to work, to process the numbers and place the bets if any qualify; but at least you have obtained some control.

Although the bots are a god send, software can make us lazy, also it can be costly to the pocket if allowed to run on its own devices. I am only using FP Bot as example it could be any one of the automated one's out there on the market. Also once set in motion even if things are not in your favour a Bot will carry on betting regardless, this also robs you of your No 1 advantage over the bookmaker 'You can pick and choose when to bet, the bookmaker has to cover every race, but if a Bot is choosing your races have you not lost that advantage? Just a thought...

Next Week
