INTRODUCTION

Hi Folks,

Welcome to BST Newsletter Edition 24 I have enclosed a brief message from James Fitzmaurice the founder and inspiration behind BST with the link to his farewell video; for those of you of a sensitive nature have the tissues ready. I have included the blog posting from the New Owner Richard Van Orden introducing himself. We have one Final Review and our weekly round up, Lay tables and pleased to say a contribution for Blogger's Corner. Betting advice is back with a small column.

James Fitzmaurice Farewell Message

Hi Guys

It's a sad day for me having to give up BST it has been my baby for nearly 2 years along the way I have to suffer criticism from a small minority of the BST family which really was uncalled for. People are so use to being ripped off that they cannot see when someone is genuinely trying to help them and want to tar everyone with the same brush. Of course the BST website cannot run without funding and the way I got round this was to only promote those products that were passed and recommended after surviving the rigors of an 84 day trial such as ABTB, GKM2, Betfair Miracle these were some of the highest scores. At least with these products you had a chance to make money, some of these may not to be everyone's taste that I cannot change but the products themselves are sound.

This strategy worked but still I got berated on other forums, got really vicious, hateful e-mails of course a lot of these were from those that had been exposed by BST for what they were frauds, scammers and conmen. It was not only these hateful e-mails etc that forced my decision, BST has grown and grown and it was taking me 8 hours nearly a day to answer support e-mails I have other businesses growing too, and the time I could spend on BST was becoming less and did not want to see the site go into freefall and decline. So I found a buyer who could bring a fresh lease of life into BST whilst not compromising the standards and the principles of the site. What are those standards well 93% of the reviews ended up in neutral, failed and scam sections, that's right only 7% actually even made it to the passed section.

BST has been my love for nearly 2 years sometimes it did fade because of the reasons above and thought to myself why?, then I remembered all those of you who said the site had saved you so much money and then I knew it was a justified love. Just to recap some of the scams that have been exposed Arbitrage Spy, AJ Tips, Betting Mole, Betfair Wizard, Lay the Best and Quantum Betting to name but a few as you know the list goes on and on.

It just leaves me to say a really big thank you to the sergeants David, Jon, Tommy, Tony, Brendan, Thomas, Philip, Ian, Rob, Marc and Rich guys I could not have achieved it all without your help. Do not worry I have not forgotten you Constables without your patronage there would be no website and it is your contributions too that makes BST really special.

Well it's been one hell of a ride and an emotional one too.

Farewell my Friends, James

Message From the New Owner

Hi all, my name is Richard Van Orden, I have been on James Newsletter for the past 6 months. I asked James to help me make my own review site, which he did and I attempted but it simply didn't get the traffic and visitors I wanted so I cancelled the site.

I soon realised a lot of hard work in marketing and building a reputation is needed to get a website as good and trusted as this one. I found out that Gavin Mountford was selling <http://www.laytheodds.com>. So I enquired and purchased this site. James decided he was selling Betting System Truths a few months ago and to be honest for what I have purchased it for he may as well have gave it to me. His main concern was it landing in the right hands. James had many offers for the site from people that obviously could see the damage they could do by owning and running a site like this. My offer for the site was the lowest bid so that screams out honesty from James and he knows the site will be kept the same and run more or less the same. In fact he made sure it would be in the agreement of sale.

So the good news is betting system truths will remain the same with one subtle change. The site will be integrated with laytheodds.com and both sites will work in harmony. You will have access to a massive user forum discussion board which is already established at lay the odds. James has managed to keep on all of the reviewers all still committed to the cause. The only reviewer we have lost so far is David who will most likely be leaving when his reviews end. David has some serious health problems and I understand his decision to leave. He will be sorely missed.

There will be a brand new site design; the site will be so much easier to navigate. This is nothing new James was already deploying the work on the new site design and ease of use. It is hard to get the right balance with the site when there is so much information being held on here.

I want to continue the newsletter but I am looking for a volunteer to continue producing this each week? Please let me know if you want to do this. It is obviously for a great cause. The newsletter goes out on a Wednesday morning at 8am GMT every Wednesday without fail. We will need the new newsletter writer to be ready to begin on the 1st December. There will be cool privileges for anyone interested in doing this. You will have an admin role within the site and access to all systems and services that are reviewed.

On a final note for now, I would like to introduce my partner who will be helping with the organisation and running of both sites. Her name is Kristen Terry. Kristen will most likely be featuring in the sites videos, which I want to continue to produce as James has said that they get a lot of interest. On the last point of James he has agreed to remain behind the scenes to help me and Kristen get to grips with this beast of a site until the New Year.

Here's to a great future for BST and LTO (Lay the Odds). I hope I have left a good impression and if there are any questions please don't be afraid to ask and I will endeavour to answer ASAP.

New Reviews

None for this week but we still have the two down below to start hopefully sometime soon.

Russell Gibbs – Personal Advice Service – Sgt Tony Ryan starts this review when Russell Gibbs returns from holidays.

In addition we have another Sams Lucky 9 Lays waiting to be assigned.

Final Reviews

Passed 5*Highly Recommended

None for the period of October 25th to October 31st.

Passed! Minimum 84 day Review

I have posted Sgt Thomas Final Review for Racing Winners below it was awarded 3.5 stars and a pass.

Racing Winners – Final Review by Sgt Thomas

It's difficult to know what to say about Racing Winners.

First, the statistics; 140 bets over the 12 week trial, with a strike rate of 18% (25 winners)

The average odds of the bets was 7.6 (average odds of the winners was 7.7)

Not an impressive strike rate and much lower than the author's claim of 25%

But, over the length of the trial, the system gained an impressive 81 points – almost 1 point per day, on average.

However, the system had gained 101 points in the first 13 days – almost 8 points per day, on average.

So, over the next 10 weeks, the system actually lost 20 points.

I do have some issues with the operation of the system because of some ambiguities.

But, the system has obviously been successful over the trial period and I believe that it has great potential.

I think that, on balance, the system deserves to pass with 3.5 stars

Despite getting 14 winning bets from 23 selections the profits were quite small with Place Profits 1 making 1.06 points and Place Profits 2 just 0.36 points, as per Sgt Jon the low odds is the problem.

Soccer Overs - Reviewer Sgt Rich

A very good week for the service with 11 winning bets from 14 selections that's a 78.57% Strike Rate; both Advised Odds and Betfair produced double figures profits for the week. Well the first 4 weeks of this review have certainly been impressive and a very good debut review for Sgt Review, let's hope that it continues it's winning ways.

		100 point Start Bank	P/L
Advised Odds	+ 41.40 points	213.30 points	+ 113.30 points

The Pointer Software -Reviewer Sgt Brendan

I have included the figures up to Day 84 and not Day 99, their was a misunderstanding that the trial would continue for another month, but this not allowed as all reviews now last a period of 84 days. So we will a wait Sgt Brendan’s verdict in his Final Review.

Upto day 84	This Period	Cumulative
	P/L	100 point Start Bank	P/L
ISP	N/A	103.06 points	+ 3.06 points
BFSP	N/A	105.55 points	+ 5.55 points

See The Pointer Software here:

http://www.bettingsystemtruths.com/review/Tax_Free_Quid/

The Wizard Of Odds - Reviewer Sgt Thomas

Just 3 selections in the last 6 days produced only 1 winner and resulted in a small loss to Level Stakes and a minus 5.36 points to the recommended Staking Plan. So after 8 weeks the review is not in profit so whether this one will continue for another 28 days we shall have to see?.

Upto day 56	This Period	Cumulative
Level Stakes	- 0.67	97.16 points	- 2.84 points

Blogger's Corner

Pleased to say we had a contribution for the Blogger's Corner this week, thank you George for your contribution.

Hello, here's some feedback for your Blogger's Corner:

In the early months of 2010, just after I retired, I took an interest in Roulette at online casinos as a possible way to supplement my pension. As in Betting, there seem to be more pimps than punters!

On the one hand, there seem to be serious experts, who tell you there is no system which will give you regular profits - everything has already been tried, and only luck, experience and flexibility will help you. My own experience seems to bear this out.

On the other hand, plenty of pimps will give or sell you systems with a recommendation to go to this or that casino, take the generous bonus, and 'walk away' with $400 every evening. These guys are only interested in the referral commission.

Here is my warning - never take a bonus. NEVER TAKE A BONUS! The whole point of the bonus is to prevent you from ever getting any money out of that casino. Two reasons:

1. Somewhere in small print it is explained that you have to wager, for instance, 20 times the deposit plus bonus to qualify for a (any) withdrawal.
2. Somewhere in small print it is also explained that low-risk games like Roulette, Blackjack, etc. will not be counted towards the qualification for withdrawal.

In other words, even if you are clever enough to build up a big profit at the roulette tables, you are forced to risk (i.e. lose) it at something where you have no influence on the outcome. You have been warned!

George

Betting Advice

Just a quick bit of advice this week I noticed on the blog that some of the postings were complaining about one of the recommended services hitting a losing patch, folks this happens and quite often after a successful review it does not mean the reviewer or the system is rubbish it just a way of balancing out. Of course you can purchase a system that was successful and hit a bad patch straight away but if you follow the advice of most of the sensible authors they always tell you to paper trade or bet to small stakes so it would not be an issue. An article was posted in this newsletter a while okay on why New System/Service initially fail and if you read that you would see why it happens.

So patience is key here it is only human nature to want to get going straight away but you need to curtail this and just take it in easy stages. Also one has to accept that losing is part of the business if you cannot handle that you need to take up another interest, no system or service no matter how good is going to give you a 100% success rate or even close and if they advertise as such you know it is a scam. As the saying goes "If it sounds too good to be true then that is what it is". As regards losing you have to learn how to lose before you can enjoy the winning. You should look at the losses as being only lent treat your horseracing or sports betting as a long term investment strategy not a short term one or get rich quick if you follow the I want it now mentality you will surely be disappointed. So to remember the following:

- (1) Have Patience
- (2) Accept that losing is a part of betting it is unavoidable.
- (3) Treat betting as a long term investment strategy not short term there is no get rich quick if you think that you will always be disappointed.

Next Week

Well we have 3 final reviews due so hopefully they will be ready for the next issue. Of course we are always on the lookout for any articles that would make interesting reading for you folks and don't forget you can contribute your own thoughts, views whatever through Blogger's Corner, yes as we got a posting this week I will let the column run a bit longer.
