INTRODUCTION

Hi Folks,

The week, we have one new review and one failed final review.

The results reported in the newsletter now also include the Monday results reported by our reviewers. This makes the league table and graph even more up to date when you receive the newsletter on the Wednesday morning.

On our League Table, Turf Wars has maintained itself at the top with a 248% profit! You can get your FREE 5-day trial of it here....

The Legacy And Saver Systems – Introduction

“They Laughed When I Said I'd Make My Living Betting on the Horses...”

(1979-2011)

“...BUT THEY'RE NOT LAUGHING NOW!”

Sergeant Jon-Introduces The Legacy And Saver Systems

Hello Bloggers,

The Legacy And Saver Systems are two systems that BACK FAVOURITES each with a set of clearly defined rules and filters. The sales page claims that the Legacy system has been around for over 30 years and when combined with The Saver system has generated average profits of over 130 points each year for the last nine years.

In short, the The Legacy And Saver Systems selection process backs forecast favourites at selected courses and in selected race types/codes. My first thoughts are that this may be a back fitted method but time will tell whether it is as profitable as claimed.

The Legacy And Saver Systems cost a one off payment of £97 through Clickbank and comprises a 29 page e-book in which the rules for both systems take up 3 pages at most! The remainder of the e-book contains the usual filler of how to bet, how to understand odds, bookies, betting exchanges and several staking plans.

One staking plan in particular is highly recommended as “the ideal partner for The Legacy System”. This is the Safe Bet Plan which is available separately at £45 also through Clickbank.

BST Admin tried on several occasions to obtain a review copy of the Safe Bet Plan but all such requests have, regrettably, been ignored. So for the purpose of the review I shall report profit and loss to level stakes at Betfair SP to avoid any misunderstandings regarding achieved prices.

The sales page for The Legacy And Saver Systems states that it only takes ten minutes each day using the Racing Post to find selections although I found it took 20 minutes or so but I may speed up as the selection process becomes more automatic.

There is also a "free" laying system included but as the rules for this are just ridiculous I won't be recording those selections or results.

Surprisingly, the e-book does not provide any advice about the size of bank required so I will use a 100 point bank and stake 1 point on each qualifying selection for the purpose of the review.

The review will start next week on Monday 30th May.

Cheers
Sgt Jon

Laytime Soccer - Review Summary

Sargeant Jon- Reviews Laytime Soccer

Hi Bloggers,

Apologies for the late submission of this review summary.

Laytime Soccer is a tipster service that costs £40 per month or £90 for three months. Tips are sent by email and arrived promptly around mid morning every day. If there were no tips for the day, an email was still sent which I found helpful as then you are not left wondering if something is amiss with the service.

Unfortunately, something was amiss with Laytime Soccer as it NEVER made any profit during the 56 day trial. On joining, you receive a welcome email that recommends you start with a 200 point bank and lay to 5% liability of the prevailing bank. However, shortly after starting the trial, the author started recommending different stake amounts for individual bets. I ignored this advice as I had already started to record profit and loss based on the 5% liability method.

Just as well, for if I had followed the different stakes recommended for each bet the bank would have been wiped out after just one month!

As it was, the 5% liability staking method wiped out half the bank and if I had used level stakes, the bank would have lost around 25%. So however you care to look at Laytime Soccer, it was a resounding failure.

There were 139 bets of which 106 won which is a strike rate of 76.25%. The break-even price for the strike rate is 4.05 whereas the actual average lay price was 7.22 with several selections being recommended at lay prices in excess of 20. In his sales pitch the author boasts of a 100% strike rate in January which was never repeated during the trial and with an average lay price of almost twice the break-even price Laytime Soccer is never likely to make long term profits.

Additionally, there were several occasions when bank management was simply ignored when stakes and lay prices were unable to be covered by the bank!

The crunch came on 9th March with the selection of Everton/Birmingham Lay 1-1 @ 9.0 Stake 10 points. Result: 1-1 Losing bet that lost 80 points when the available bank to cover liability was only 14.25 points. So this bet just could not have been placed.

Stats

85 days trial produced 56 betting days

139 selections of which 106 were winning bets

Strike Rate 76.25%

Average Lay Price: 7.22

Break Even Lay Price: 4.05 (based on strike rate)

Minimum recommended price: 2.04

Maximum recommended lay price: 24.00 (!!)

5% Liability staking

Opening Bank: 200 points

Closing Bank: 106.64 points

Cumulative P/L: minus 93.36 points

Recommended Staking

Opening Bank: 200 points

Closing Bank: minus 65.75 points

Cumulative P/L: minus 265.75 points

Level Stakes

Opening Bank: 200 points

Closing Bank: 156.32 points

Cumulative P/L: minus 43.68 points

So, without any doubts, this soccer tipster service has to get the big thumbs down and is recommended as a FAILURE.

Cheers
Sgt Jon

Current Reviews

Now includes all data reported by our reviewers up to Monday night.

This section covers all the current reviews being conducted and gives a quick insight how each review is performing. I have now described which type of service each one is.

Systems: These are a set of rules that are used to make selection criteria. These rules are hard and fast without room for interpretation or discretion.

Methods or Strategies: These services are based upon loose rules or advices that are applied, with skill, by the user of the service.

Tips: You receive tips from the service provider of back or lay bets and you back the tips to the recommended stakes or to level stakes.

League Table of Current Reviews

Now includes all data reported by our reviewers up to Monday night.

The systems under review have different starting banks, different stakes and some systems have variable stakes. A reasonable way of comparing the performance of systems is to work out the profit (or loss) as a percentage of the starting bank.

I've colour coded the reviews that are the currently most successful, with the colour of their profitability graph to make them easier to spot.

Sprint Lay Expert has crashed down the table this week and RebelBetting has moved up the table. Unfortunately most of the others are showing a loss. Betfair Success Formula and Betting Profits are going to be more or less inactive until the new football season. Of course, Turf Wars appears to be winning the battle for the top, hands down!

Obviously this table doesn't replace reading the reviews, because profit as %age of bank is not the only factor in judging a system. Nevertheless, I think it gives a valid comparison and an at-a-glance way of bringing the mass of data together.

System Reviewed	Start Bank	Total Profit /Loss	Profit as %age of Bank	Position Last Week	Position This Week
Turf Wars Staking System	100	248.44	248.44%	1	1

Profitability Graph

Here is a graph of the profit being made by the front-runners as a percentage of their starting bank. This gives a week by week comparative view of their progress.

It gives a representation of the volatility or dependability of each system. Ideally we would want a graph that increased each week by roughly the same amount. If a system or tipping service could produce that, then we would really have a winning review!

Turf Wars has kept up its fantastic success.
