INTRODUCTION

Hi Folks

Welcome to BST Newsletter Edition 15 in this issue we have 4 Final Reviews, an updated Review and a Scam Alert, plus the Lay League table and Betting Advice which also deals with the subject of scams. Due to the amount of review content I have put the Racing Personalities on hold for this week.

New Reviews

Analytical Pro - Reviewer Sgt Jon

Was hoping to have an Introduction for this one in this edition, but Sgt Jon is just awaiting clarification on one of the rules from the author and then he will be posting his introduction and starting the review.

See Analytical Pro here: http://bettingssystemtruths.com/review/Analytical_Pro/

Final Reviews

We have 4 Final Reviews this week one passed and three in neutral. Also an updated review which now the system has been placed in the Jailed and Filed category.

Passed 5*Highly Recommended

None for the period of August 23rd to 29th August

Passed! Minimum 84 day Review

Football Bets Direct- Reviewer Sgt Philip

Although it only had 11 days of actual bets with the system due lack of opportunities over the summer and the authors unfortunate heart attack as per Sgt Philip the service does what it says on the tin. All of the advised bets are around 1.8, the author recommends A, B and C bets similar to Sports Betting Professor but as can be seen below it makes a profit to level stakes.

So Sgt Philip is recommending this service for any one who wishes to make a steady profit from their football betting over a long term and given it 3.5 stars rating.

Released On Bail (Neutral)

Betfair Pirate – Reviewer Sgt Marc

Placed in the neutral section by Sgt Marc as he does not have enough evidence to pass or convict. Results over the last 84 days have been less than inspiring, but the previous 84 days were a lot better. The operator has created a Betfair Pirate Filtering System which is supposed to filter out the races that potentially are going to cause a loss, although early days this is not performing any better than the original. Sgt Marc is going to report on the first Monday of the month on the progress of both the original and the filter system. Betfair Pirate was awarded 2.5 stars and made a profit of 1.76 points over the course of the 84 day review.

Champion Lays - Reviewer Sgt Philip

Well from August 8th to August 23rd the service managed to get 16 winning lays from 17 selections and made a profit of 1172.80 during this period. Up to this point Sgt Philip was going to put Champion Lays into the Jailed and Failed section but after this run of results and the fact that the service is now in profit he has decided to place it in neutral. Sgt Philip believes that Champion Lays has potential and will monitor the results over the forthcoming months with maybe a revisit in the New Year. Over the review period the service ended with a profit of +£596.80 profit.

Winning Racing Tips -Reviewer BSG

Although being let down by the two previous Sergeants we were able to piece together the previous postings and looked at the numbers and have awarded Winning Racing Tips a rating of 2.5 stars and placed it in neutral. At the end of the 84 day trial the service made a profit of 182.0 points and as around 95% of the stuff that is reviewed then it deserves a place in the neutral section.

Failed and Jailed

Hot Horses Update – Final Review - Reviewer Sgt Dave

Reviewed by Sgt Dave way back in the early part of the year it was put on hold as it did not give enough selections to be able to review it properly. So since February 15th it has been monitored by Sgt Dave in the end over the course of 8 months it actually started its original review on December 26th the system had more Non Betting days then Betting Days, had long losing runs of 20 plus and a strike rate of around 9%, it also lost half of the recommended Starting Bank of 80 points. The system did get more selections from March onwards but still the results were less than impressive. Also Sgt Dave received definite selections from early June onwards which as per the manual should not have qualified, whether you followed the e-mails or the manual results were still poor and at £95 for the system is simply not worth it. Duly Jailed and Failed with a 2 star rating.

Scam Alert

Arbitrage Spy- Reviewer BSG

I hope you all heeded the advice given last week and did not waste £47 of your hard earned money on this software. Having tested it for nearly 3 hours none of the advices given were available and the interface was awful. Worst of all no manual or tutorial was provided which would make it completely useless to the less technical amongst us. Although the idea of the Arbitrage Spy was a good one, it is totally an unfinished product also it has annoying up sells all geared to take as much of your cash as possible. Avoid it like the plague and if you have purchased it get a refund.

News About All The Reviews

This section covers all the current reviews being conducted and just gives a quick insight how each review is performing. All the figures quoted below cover the period August 23rd to August 29th inclusive.

Champion Racing Lays - Reviewer Sgt Tommy

Well what a complete contrast to what has happened before 8 selections and 8 winning Lays and a profit of 7.60 points for the period. Could this be the start of a dramatic recovery?

The Full Circle System – Reviewer Sgt Dave

A better week for the system it had 5 E.W bets which produced 2 winners and a 2nd, for the win bets 10 selections and 3 winners, finally 1 place bet which lost. So for the period the system made a profit of 8.38 points. Are things changing for the system? We shall have to see.

Betting Advice

This week we will be looking at the tactics used by some of the more unscrupulous Service and System sellers out there.

False Updating Scam

In this one the Tipster Service updates his results on his website regularly and claims inside knowledge and makes wonderful claims of 85 to 95% Strike Rate. The only thing is they do not have any subscribers they are just waiting for a victim they only need one or two a month and they have a good income, why because to subscribe it will cost you a lot of money say £500 maybe even £2000 for a couple of tips. Of course unless you were really lucky and the horse they selected won you are going to be severely out of pocket. All their selections are an amateurish guess and the advertised Strike Rate will miraculously drop. Make sure you are not one of their victims.

Two Sets Of Bets.

Websites operating this type of scam run two or more different services (2 or more sets of bets), for example Gold tips and Platinum tips, and needless to say results for both services are too good to be true. Here's the trick – while Gold tips for example would cost you around £100, the Platinum one could be as much as 10 times higher. Now naturally the normal backer would go for the cheaper service but when they do suddenly results are not so good but the Platinum one is going great guns making excellent profits, of course the operators could even offer you a discount on the dearer package because they are sorry that the cheaper service is not performing up to its normal standards. If they were charging a £1000 for the Platinum Service they could easily offer you 20% discount they are still going to make a lot of money, they only need two or 3 up sells like that and they are laughing all the way to the bank. As for you for well the results will still be the same lousy whether it Silver, Gold or Platinum all you have done is blown your money.

Bets That Cost An Outrageous Amount Of Money.

If a website is asking for outrageous sums of money for its services or bets then the more likely it is a scam, the most you should pay for a good service is £50 to £150 per month. Avoid paying for individual tips, and especially those tips that you have to place a bet of say £50 on the selection for the service. This is another good earner for the operator, all he needs is a couple of phones with different tapes on giving a different selection in the same race so he must give some of the callers the winner so another way they can profit, apart from the fact the phone lines are normally at a premium rate and they will earn from that too, especially if they do plenty of talking before giving you a selection or selections. It's a win, win situation for them and a losing one for you.

Websites That Advertise Fixed Matches, Dirty Tips or 100% Inside Information.

Avoid sites that advertise with the words fixed, sure, secret, insider, super insider these are nothing but a ploy, also sites with "guaranteed" 80-90% success rate. All this is meant to do is trick inexperienced visitors.

Websites That Record Asian Handicap Half Wins As Full Wins And Omit Losers.

These websites sometimes count only winners and completely disregard losers. This also means that as long as they hit a winner the subscriber must pay for a bet regardless of how many losers they released prior to a winning bet. Some websites go even further and actually advertise fantastic wins despite providing completely different and usually very poor tips for their subscribers.

Beware of websites that run “latest releases” and “special releases” and record all bets together.

Many of these websites may have “Regular Bets” and also something like “Special Releases”, or “Special Bets” yet they show only one set of results. The special bets are usually so expensive nobody can buy them – this way they can engineer the results, so overall the service appears to be very successful.

Other Things to be aware of !

A bit like the telephone tipping some conmen give different bets and different handicaps for the same match to different subscribers, or run multiple services that tip different bets and different handicaps for the same match in order to advertise winners to their email lists.

Many of the scam websites promise a refund for each losing tip but then claim they actually offer a full refund only if each tip of the purchased block of tips loses, i.e – give a refund only if each of 10 tips bought lose.

Some of the football websites have 3 years’ results, but their domain name was registered last month!!! Many sites present winning tips history 2-3 years backwards, but a quick WHOIS check reveals their domain registered 1-2 months ago. Use Google Whois-Search to check to see what date the domain was created.

Use only services that have a reliable history of at least 5-6 months long, the longer the better. Avoid websites with no address, no contact details, no real phone number, no company details, no testimonials, websites claiming 85%, 90% or even 100% strike rate or other ridiculously unrealistic figures.

This one is really important beware of websites without proper payment processing facilities. If they take payments only via Moneybookers, Western Union, or bank transfer - these are 100% pure scams. Many of these websites simply disappear after taking your payment, especially big payments. Of course you have no chance of a refund with these sites, make sure the ones that use have Clickbank or PayPal at least you know you can go to them for a refund.

Sites to Avoid

Websites below are not some poorly performing tipsters, these are deliberate scams set up for one thing to con you out of your money.

Watch out!

www.napfootball.com

This is a very nasty scam. They advertise all winners but only few of their numerous losses, thus the real results are much different. Stay clear!

www.bestsoccertips.net

This is the all time classic, the worst football con we have ever come across, BE WARNED!!!

www.sportnbets.com

This is new BIG scam, seemingly very profitable football tipping website advertising heavily on Google. Please be aware that they have the same analytics account as napfootball.com. This means that both websites are operated by the same fraudsters. Furthermore if you do your research you can see that the site was launched only on 10 Feb 2010 yet showing profitable results since December 2009 (???). Do not get caught!

Stay clear of ALL blogs and websites promising Fixed Matches - these are 100% fraud. The most prolific conmen dealing in "fixed games" are Croatians and Serbians. Do not touch "DOJAVA" blogs, no matter what!!!

Next Week

Well we should have the Introduction to Analytical Pro hopefully with some positive results. Final Reviews for Golden Key Method 2 and also Profits from Systems amongst other things, plus our usual features and weekly updates.
