INTRODUCTION

Hi Folks,

Welcome to the first of the new monthly Newsletter. I have some major changes planned for BettingSystemTruths over the coming months and once that is complete I may change the format of this Newsletter again.

We have two New Reviews, Mals Lay System and Trainer Track Stats, and two Final Reviews. Greyhound LayPRO has passed with 3 out of 5 stars and Place Bet Pro has passed with 4 out of 5 stars.

Among our Current Reviews, this month, we have 11 reviews making a decent profit of over 15% with the 3 star performers Betting Bubble, Place Bet Pro and Form Labs Game Notes each making over 200%!!

We'd like to hear from you, please contact me by e-mail via the Bloggers Corner at news@bettingsystemtruths.com

Mals Lay System – Introduction

30th April 2012

Sergeant Lucian – Introduces Mals Lay System

Hi Bloggers,

Here is a review of a GreyHorseBot bonus – Mals Lay System.

First I will let you know how you get this – any regular subscriber of GreyHorseBot have access to Bonuses sections where "Tipsters" are allowing you to see their selections for a trial period.

Mals Lay System is bonus number 28, offered to GreyHorseBot subscribers.

The system provide a lot of lay selections and there is an official odd rule – 7 to 12 – this is the minimum and maximum odd for play the selections, "widen odds" is set to 10. With this rule the system will be reviewed. If another price range is used the number of selections can be more or less.

The initial review will be for 56 "betting days", and may be extended to 84 "betting days", depending on its performance.

Staking for review – the initial bank will be 100 and stake 1% of bank. Also I'll monitor on flat stake system 100 starting bank and 1 point stake.

It is possible to load the selections directly from the server so you don't have to do anything else.

The price for GreyHorseBot is £17 for the first month and £27 a month thereafter.

GreyHorseBot comes with a lot of bonuses – not only Mals Lay System, a Betdaq version, GHB for Australian Betfair Market and other tricks and tips including the settings manual. Also on every tab of GHB settings and options at "?" button the bot redirect you to online help page for that tab with all the explained options.

Thank you for your time and I hope you enjoy the review.

Trainer Track Stats – Introduction

30th April 2012

Sergeant John Introducing Trainer Track Stats

Welcome to the new review of the horse racing service - Trainer Track Stats – a well-established system which claims to have made profits for six straight years, without a losing year.

The man at the helm is pro-punter Gavin Priestley, although he does say 'we' and 'our' a lot on his sales site, which seems to suggest he is not simply a one-man band, but I do not mind working with any member of the orchestra if the results are good!

The cost is a single, one-off, payment of £39 for the complete Trainer Track Stats Package, which includes four pdf manual files outlining the service and useful tips, packed with statistical information to identify the profitable trends that certain trainers have developed in specific races or with specific horses, but also a daily email service with every qualifying selection. There is also a guarantee of a complete refund should you not be happy with the results within 30 days of your purchase.

Trainer Track Stats involves backing horses, preferably on Betfair to ensure better prices, at certain odds and only during the Flat Racing season from 1 May 2012 to 31 October 2012. I shall be reviewing during that entire period.

You back the selections using level stakes and for this review I shall be using a 250-point bank with stakes of five points per selection.

Although this is described as a marathon and not a sprint service, over the past six years, starting in 2006-2007, it has earned 373 points, that is an average of 62 points a year, a profit which would compliment any punters' portfolio.

Let us hope it lives up to its previous profit statistics with a good start tomorrow.

Best Regards

Greyhound LayPRO – Final Review Summary

20th April 2012

Sergeant Lucian – Reviews Greyhound LayPRO

PASSED AND APPROVED

Rating:

Hi Bloggers,

As you know from intro – Greyhound LayPRO is a piece of software from the Steve Davidson Stable and is created by Steve and Kevin from Racing and Sport Software. This software rates dogs on each greyhound track and from these ratings it selects some lay bets. The price of the Greyhound LayPRO software is 19.99 pounds and you get one license for one computer.

For this review I've use Grey Horse Bot. The bot is set to enter in market with 33 seconds before the start.

The results on Greyhound LayPRO selection after 84 betting days looks pretty good.

Level Stakes staking plan – 100 points and 1 point on stake, max. odd 10

Start Bank: 100.00

Final Bank: 123.77

P/L: +23.77

Number of selections: 413

Winning selections: 356

Hit Rate: 86%

Average Odd: 7.22

ROI: 5.76%

ROL (Return on Liability): 0.93%

For a piece of software at 19.99 pounds this results on flat stakes are OK. Service & Support is one of the best in this business and the software is really easy to use.

Return of Liability is somewhere at 1% and for a laying system with odds to 10, average odd over 7, I think this looks OK. Even if a period was a little hard the bank stay positive and profit was made.

Clear, main issue on Greyhound lay market is liquidity and for high stakes the bets can't be matched or are matched partially. For this reason I think that is recommended to have accounts at all bookies that offer lay bets on Greyhound. GHB used for this review, also offer an Betdaq version. WBX as I know don't have an API platform.

To understand why three stars rating, here are the results on other two staking methods, chosen by me after testing some other staking. I've done this because the seller sell the soft as it is and the user chose the right way for him.

123 staking plan (loss – stake goes one point down) – 100 points and 1 point on stake, max. odd 10

Start Bank: 100.00

Final Bank: 154.56

P/L: +54.56

Number of selections: 413

Winning selections: 356

Hit Rate: 86%

Average Odd: 7.22

ROI: 4.72%

123 staking plan (loss – start over from 1) – 100 points and 1 point on stake, max. odd 10

Start Bank: 100.00

Final Bank: 168.81

P/L: +68.81

Number of selections: 413

Winning selections: 356

Hit Rate: 86%

Average Odd: 7.22

ROI: 6.43%

Also the bank never hit the 0 value on all staking methods. Using a bot like Grey Horse Bot and the software all the time need to do all is under 15 minutes per day.

If you chose to use GHB, is good to know that you can run multiple instances of the bot on different markets. Also the bot offer an excel staking method.

Thank you for your time and I hope you enjoy the review.

Place Bet Pro Final – Review

25/04/2012

Sgt Steve reviews Place Bet Pro

PASSED AND APPROVED

Hi Bloggers,

So Day 82 brought us to Good Friday. I have stopped the review of Place Bet Pro here as there was no racing then I went away for Easter and had no internet connection so apologies for being short by 2 days but I think the results speak for themselves.

Place Bet Pro is a place betting system e-book for UK Horse Racing. The system rules identify place bets which can be placed on Betfair or with any bookmaker that offers place only bets. I just used Betfair for the purposes of this trial.

The rules of Place Bet Pro are very straight forward and easy to follow and are based on short priced horses finishing in the frame. The system is set up to be applied on UK Horse Racing however it is simple enough that it may be applied elsewhere but for the purposes of this trial I will stick to UK racing. The main issue with the system is that the selections are based on horses being within a certain price range. However it doesn't specify a time i.e. just before the off, at the start of the day etc. Given that I live in Australia and to be consistent I tried to get my prices that were on offer at 11am UK time. This gave the markets enough time to move after the bookies put up their prices and still allowed me to get some beauty sleep! However this created the potential for me to come up with slightly different results than someone who was sitting there all day and betting at the off. And I had a couple of people get in touch with me about their selections and we were slightly different because of that. However, the results speak for themselves.

So altogether there were 212 qualifiers, 164 winners and 48 unplaced for a strike rate of 77.4 per cent. I think from memory the author claimed 82 per cent so we are pretty close.

So therefore the total amount staked was £21,200 for a return of £23,121.80, a return on investment of around 10 per cent, which is a lot more than I am getting in my UK bank account currently!

To sum up simply, it is easy to use and it definitely comes more naturally as time goes on. Looking back over my review I reckon I didn't come completely to grips with it until about 20 days or so in. Can do the selections in about 10-15 minutes now. I didn't really follow it with my own money but most certainly will be now so hopefully can retire in about 2 years J. The good thing about this system is that it doesn't require a huge bank and is designed for level staking though I am going to use a percentage of bank going forward as if this performance repeats it will build up nicely as well as looking at doing doubles and trebles. Unfortunately Paddy Power seems to be the only bookie that offers place only betting and some of his odds leave a little to be desired. If anyone can point me to anyone else that does it would be much appreciated.

Start Balance: £1000

Total P/L: £2121.80

Final Balance: £3121.80

Regards

League Table of Current Reviews

Return

A reasonable way of comparing the performance of systems is to work out the profit (or loss) as a percentage of the starting bank. Obviously this table doesn't replace reading the reviews, because profit as %age of bank is not the only factor in judging a system. Nevertheless, it is a valid at-a-glance way of bringing the mass of data together.

We have eleven reviews making a decent profit of over 15%.
